

CELEBRATING OUR

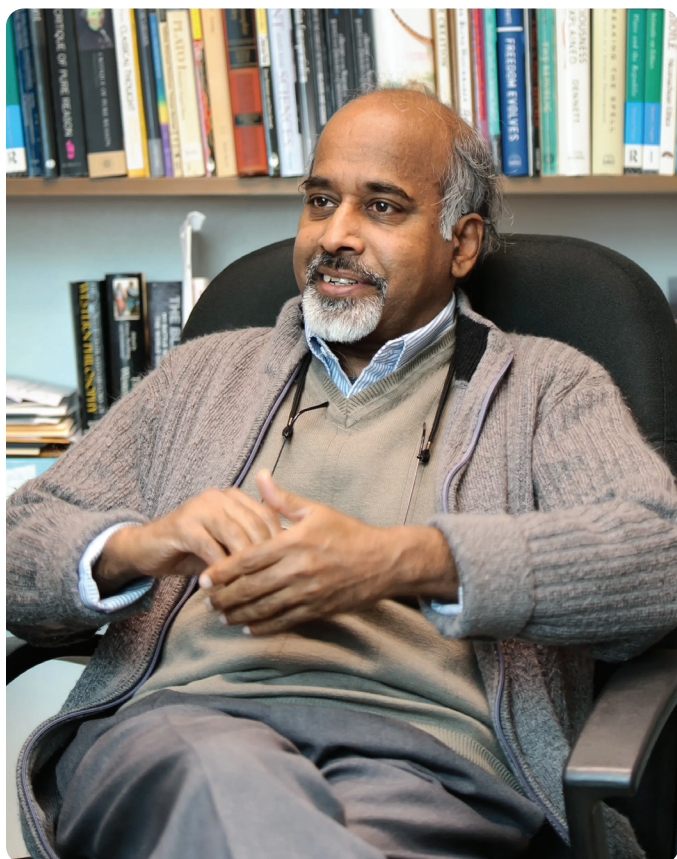

YEAR ANNIVERSARY!

2024-25 CAMPUS THEME

unveiling reality

Prakash Chenjeri, Professor of Philosophy,
Southern Oregon University

A Philosophical Cross-Examination

As this year's campus theme, Unveiling Reality, comes to a close, join Professor Chenjeri for a thought-provoking finale that turns the lens inward. After examining reality through the lenses of religion, archaeology, and consciousness, this concluding presentation steps back to interrogate the very foundations of what we call "reality." Drawing on various philosophical traditions, Professor Chenjeri will explore several enduring questions: What is reality? Is it objective or shaped by perception? By subjecting the theme to a philosophical cross-examination, this lecture invites us not only to reflect on what we have explored this year, but to question the very ground beneath our feet.
