PART IV—NARRATIVE INFORMATION

A. THE CHURCH AND COMMUNITY

1. The Church

Rose Hill CPC was founded by hard-working Southerners who for the most part had interests in agriculture or education. Today, the average Church family is working, middle class. Most of our congregation members are either in the field of education or retired. Because our congregation is aging, we need new members who will be willing to volunteer, teach, and help provide meals/dishes when we have a gathering. Most of our congregation is white but we are most certainly open to everyone.

The Church itself consists of a brick sanctuary built in 1986, which is connected to a Fellowship Hall, classrooms for Sunday School, and the old sanctuary, which was originally built in 1898. Rose Hill Cemetery adjoins the church grounds. The church also maintains a three-bedroom, two-bath, 1800 square foot manse in Monticello for our minister and his/her family.

The Church Directory, which contains the history, names of past Elders and Pastors, has recently been updated to current information.

In the past, the Church Fellowship Hall has been used for Boy Scout meetings and as an election polling site.

2. The Community

On the first Sunday in September 1885, seventeen citizens met in a log cabin school building a half mile from the current church location for the first worship service of the newly formed Rose Hill Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Today, Rose Hill CPC is located three miles north of Monticello, Arkansas and serves a neighborhood in a five-mile radius.

The manse is located in the center of Monticello, which is one of the largest towns in Southeast Arkansas. It is the marketplace hub for Drew County and several surrounding counties. Selected twice by Arkansas Business as a City of Distinction for its quality of life, Monticello is an active place for people seeking progress but in the relaxed comfort and charm of a small town.

Monticello has a population of 8,450. Demographically Monticello has 57% White, 40% Black, 4% Hispanic, with 26% living at poverty level. The median household income in 2019 was $36,500. Monticello has two school districts, a campus of the University of Arkansas, an Occupational Education Center, Drew Memorial Hospital, Arkansas Baptist Home For Children, and Vera Lloyd Presbyterian Home For Children. Monticello has a diverse religious community with Assembly of God, Baptist, Catholic, Church of Christ, Methodist, Mormon, Pentecostal, and Presbyterian churches to attend.

B. PROGRAM AREAS IN THE LIFE OF THE CHURCH

Rose Hill CPC is governed by our Session, with input from our Elders and congregation members. When necessary, such as the pastor search, committees are formed and report progress to the Session. Holiday or Vacation Bible School decorations are often done by several generous men and women in the Church. The Church usually holds work days twice a year to clean-up and fix-up the grounds and Fellowship Hall.

Sunday school classes for seniors, adults, young adults, middle and high schoolers are held each Sunday beginning at 10:00 a.m. Worship service begins at 11:00 a.m. and has been conducted by various guest speakers and lay people since 2019. As a unanimous body, Rose Hill CPC decided not to close during the pandemic. Concessions, such as wearing of masks and social distancing, have been, and continue, to be observed.

In 1997, the World's Best Squirrel Mulligan, Soup, and Chili Fundraiser Supper began. Proceeds have been used for various ministries.

Several times each year the congregation holds potluck luncheons following worship service as part of our fellowship. We also serve home-cooked suppers to the University of AR-Monticello basketball athletes and participate in UAM orientation every year as part of our Christian ministry.

C. WORSHIP PREFERENCES

Rose Hill CPC maintains a Southern traditional style of worship. Many congregation members are descendants of founders of the church. A current church bulletin is attached.

The Church will need to change in order to attract new, younger members but it may have to be done over time and at a slow pace.

D. GOALS, OBJECTIVES, VIEWPOINTS

Having been without a full-time minister since 2019, the Elders and Session of Rose Hill CPC has as its major goal securing a new full-time minister. The Church, to survive, must increase our membership with younger adults and families with children due to our aging congregation who are, or will be, either in assisted living or nursing home care. Several congregation members currently care for a disabled child or their parents.

During the past two and half years without a full-time minister, members of the congregation have stepped up to continue services, such as our retirement home ministry, securing speakers for worship service every Sunday, conducting our ministry at UAM, creating a weekly bulletin, and conducting an annual Christmas musical.

However, other areas of our Christian ministry have been lacking. Our full-time minister will be expected to encourage/revive/increase professions of faith, community outreach, children ministry, and visitation to spread the gospel of Jesus and thus help increase our membership. Communion service will be expected to be conducted on a regular basis. Congregation members who are in the hospital or going through cancer treatments should be visited by the minister.

E. BENEVOLENCE SUPPORT

In 2021, nineteen percent of our total income was used for benevolent outreach. We support the Presbyterian Church USA Clothes Closet and Food Pantry, the Loaves and Fishes fund-raising event, Grand Manor Assisted and Independent Living visits, church camps, CPC missions and ministry through Presbytery dues and OUO and the Community Angel Tree at Christmas. Church members have individual ministries/missions, such as UAM Basketball, Hope Place, Log-a-Load for Kids, and the local animal shelter, that are also supported by our congregation.

Proceeds from the Annual Squirrel Mulligan Supper benefit youth camp trips, Fellowship Hall furnishings, and the Reverend Dale Gentry Program of Alternative Studies Scholarship Fund.
