Subject: FY2022 Required Training for Employees

Date: November 22, 2021

Each year, MC offers collegewide training classes or online modules that are required for all or select employees, depending on their role at the College. The required training for FY22 focuses on three (3) areas that are very relevant to the College’s current organizational priorities: ethics, data security, and Workday.

Because the implementation of Workday, our new financial and human resource management system, will impact employees across the College, you will notice there are significant training requirements on the new system that must be completed within a short time frame, with several due to be completed before the winter break, (i.e., by December 23). This is because the new system will “go live” on January 1, 2022, and we will no longer use Banner to conduct financial and human resources related processes and transactions. Each employee’s Workday training requirements will depend on their respective role and responsibilities at the College; however, to ensure that employees are fully prepared, it is essential that employees and their supervisors review the topics and descriptions of the training provided and proactively participate in the training activities that are relevant to them. For more information related to Workday training please visit the Workday Training webpage.

The following table provides a comprehensive list of the required training for employees in FY22.
