

Beginning Your Children's Bible Quizzing Ministry

A children's Bible quizzing program is a terrific and effective way to get children to engage with the Bible. Beginning a Bible quizzing ministry can be intimidating if this is your first time. The following six easy steps can help your church to start a life-changing children's Bible quizzing program.

First, Select the Materials

Order the following children's Bible quizzing materials from the Foundry Publishing at www.gokidsquiz.com.

- Leader book for each teacher
- Pupil book for each child
- Additional resources for biblical study (optional)*
- NIV scripture portion for each child (optional)*
- Answer boxes (one box per child)

*Note: Optional materials enhance your children's Bible quizzing ministry.

Second, contact your district children's Bible quizzing director.

Request competition information (dates, times, locations, Bible studies covered at invitational competitions, etc.) from your district children's Bible quizzing director.

Third, select a day, time, length (60 or 90 minutes), and location for your weekly Bible studies.

You will also need to determine if you will combine or separate the levels—RED Level (beginning) and BLUE Level (advanced).

Fourth, read and prepare the Bible studies.

You will need to be prepared. Read ahead and prepare the lessons. Keep the focus on Bible study—not competition.

Fifth, advertise the weekly Bible study.

- Place information in the church newsletter and worship folder.
- Make announcements in children's classrooms and adult Sunday school classes.
- Send an invitation to each elementary-aged child in your church.

Sixth, present children's Bible quizzing as a Bible study.

Children will need a Bible and a study book. Include reading the study passages and discussion in your Bible study time. Involve all children in the Bible study. Allow children to decide if they want to participate in competitions.

Lastly, enjoy the journey!

Remember, the objective of children's quizzing is Bible study not just the competition.