

TODAY: presentation by Amy Bowers Cordalis

You are invited to an inspiring presentation that will take place today (Tuesday, April 7th at 5:00pm) by Amy Bowers Cordalis (<https://amybowerscordalis.com/>).

The Bio from her website: "Amy Bowers Cordalis is a devoted advocate for Indigenous rights and environmental restoration. A member of the Yurok Tribe and ceremony family from the village of Rek-Woi at the mouth of the Klamath River, she is a fisherwoman, attorney and mother deeply rooted in the traditions of her people. As Co-Founder and Executive Director of the Ridges to Riffles Indigenous Conservation Group, Amy leads efforts to support tribes in protecting their sovereignty, lands, and waters, including the historic Klamath Dam Removal project—one of the world's largest river restoration and dam removal initiatives. Former general counsel for the Yurok Tribe and an attorney at the Native American Rights Fund, Amy has earned honors as a UN Champion of the Earth and Time 100 climate leader and is the author of the book, The Water Remembers."

This event will be a great opportunity to lift up and celebrate students, our community, and the power of motivated people to create positive change. I hope you will consider joining us!

I recognize there are competing demands on your time and that other campus events are scheduled at the same time. So if you cannot make it or simply would like to see more, I'm including a few links below:

- see a 2 minute film by UN Environment Programme here
(<https://youtu.be/IYuvGFSt5Oc?si=65brGVLsQ3XxBJ5e>)

- see a 17-minute film by Patagonia here (https://youtu.be/PoZKMTqK8u4?si=ktFZAEoVrvwwLHV_)

- see Amy and her niece, Keeya (AHS student), on the Kelly Clarkson show here
(<https://youtu.be/YAZCiAsygL0?si=hVvzke3xSRRyma0E>)

Please spread the word and bring a friend, sibling, or student of any age with you!

Where: Rogue River Room of the Stevenson Union, SOU campus

When: 5:00pm-6:30pm (book signing to follow) on Tuesday, April 7th

Free and open to the public