

I chose my photograph of Francisco Aguabella, a Cuban conguero who worked with Dizzy Gillespie, Tito Puente, Malo and many others. He was performing at the Geffen Contemporary. I shot it on black and white film (tri-x, pulled a half stop). It was one of those you knew was perfect just from looking at the negative.