For students: share a “Lollipop Moment”

ASSOU in collaboration with President Bailey and the Dean of Students' office is pleased to officially launch Project Architect: Lollipop Moment!

Lollipop Moment aims to celebrate acts of kindness and leadership performed by SOU staff and faculty members, and is inspired by Drew Dudley's "Everyday Leadership" TED Talk (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uAy6EawKKME>).

If there is a staff or faculty member a student wishes to recognize, the student can present them with a lollipop - which can be found at the housing desk, library desk, SU welcome desk, ASSOU offices or the Dean of Students office. Share the lollipop moment by scanning the QR code found on the back of the lollipop and help to recognize staff and faculty members' acts of kindness.

If a student is unable to deliver a Lollipop, a separate form (<https://go.sou.edu/LollipopMoment>) will allow an ASSOU member to send one for you.

Join ASSOU in celebrating the small moments and creating a more connected community!
