

Pedagogical Discussions for 2021-2022

Exploring Inclusive Pedagogy: Creating Classrooms for All

The 2021-2022 Pedagogical Discussions Series is a series of eight thematically linked roundtable-style workshops. The theme for Academic Year 2021-2022 is Inclusive Pedagogies. In this year's workshops, we will explore how to make our classrooms more inclusive and welcoming to all learners. Each workshop will be led by a faculty member or member of ELITE with knowledge of that particular topic, and all sessions will be held via Zoom.

Schedule at a Glance

- Getting Started with Inclusive Pedagogy: September 16, 2021, 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.
- Refining Our Approach to Inclusive Pedagogy: October 15, 2021, 1:00 to 2:00 p.m.
- Recognizing Our Biases and Assessing Inclusively: November 15, 2021, 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.
- Designing Courses and Teaching with UDL in Mind: December 10, 2021, 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.
- Promoting Culturally and Linguistically Responsive Teaching: February 16, 2022, 1:00 to 2:00 p.m.
- Advancing Social Justice Through Critical Pedagogy: March 25, 2022, 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.
- Employing Open Pedagogy to Build Inclusivity: April 19, 2022, 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.
- Building an Inclusive Classroom Through Feminist Pedagogy: May 13, 2022, 1:00 to 2:00 p.m.

Visit Workday for more information about each session and to register.