

RISK MANAGEMENT SEMINARS 2023

Health Care Disparities: What Are They and What Can We Do About Them

Travis County Medical Society

Thursday, April 20, 2023

CME program Noon – 1pm

Livestream webinar will begin promptly at noon

Who Should Attend

This 1-hour interactive program is intended for physicians of all specialties who are interested in practical ways to reduce the potential for malpractice liability risks.

At the conclusion of the program, participants should be able to:

- Recall the definition and realities of health care disparities; and
- Recognize how health care disparities influence the health care providers and the health care available in a community; and
- Identify what each physician can do individually and collectively to eliminate health care disparities.

About the Speaker

William E. Hopkins, JD “Bill” focuses his law practice at Spencer Fane LLP on defending and protecting health care providers and health care professionals in matters of administrative law, Regulatory Defense and Litigation, as well as assisting these clients in transactional matters. He routinely advises on topics including licensure, regulatory compliance, and enforcement matters, with an emphasis on proactive measures to ensure compliance and minimize litigation risk. Mr. Hopkins has litigated on behalf of his clients in both State and Federal Administrative Courts, as well as the District Courts of Texas. Mr. Hopkins has also spoken at the local, regional, and national level regarding licensure, compliance, and enforcement matters. He obtained his law degree from the University of Texas School of Law in 1995.
