SCREENS, TWEENS

and finding a balance

Dr. Dolly Klock

Whether screen-time battles with your kids are a daily reality or you feel like you have the tech scene under control, join Dolly Klock, MD, on Tuesday, March 21 at 6:30 p.m., for a community discussion about kids and screens.

We will talk about both the joys and challenges of parenting in the digital space, considerations when introducing new devices and platforms, the intersection of puberty and tech, and how to find balance that feels right for your family.
