

WHAT'S NOW, NEW AND NEXT AT SOUTHERN OREGON UNIVERSITY

September Symposium Set for September 21!

The Symposium's Zoom sessions will be held between 10:00 and 3:30. Check out the event program at <https://bit.ly/3BdrCrF> (copy and paste in your browser) and sign up for sessions.

There's so much to look forward to: Help Us Help You: Partnering to Make Your Teaching Life More Manageable presented by janelle wilson and Tori Goodson, an introduction to Sociocracy with Renee Owen, creating effective assessments with Trish Styer, developing a video library with Michael Parker, a report from the innovation community exploring community-based learning, plus podcasting, liquid syllabi, social annotation using Hypothes.is, a discussion of the Kognito simulation, an overview of the gen ed course development process..... And more!

Plan to take a break from last-minute course preparation and find out what some of our colleagues have been learning about and working on since last we met. Last year's event received rave reviews for content and convenience. We look forward to seeing you there!
