The Center for Faculty Excellence invites you to a virtual conversation with Todd D. Zakrajsek, PhD, author of The New Science of Learning. Prior to the program, you can access the e-book version through Creighton University Libraries to read at <https://ebookcentral.proquest.com/lib/creighton-ebooks/detail.action?docID=29385767>.

Here's what people are saying about The New Science of Learning: How to Learn in Harmony With Your Brain (3rd edition):

- “masterfully weaves together leading brain research and practical examples to show students ‘how to learn.’”
- “It is an invaluable resource for educators searching for concrete, evidence-based ways to help students build academic skills, agency, and self-efficacy.”
- “Zakrajsek’s systematic, approachable, and humorous discussion of ‘the research’ makes this book both accessible and meaningful for any learner in higher education – and faculty too!”
