HOT OFF THE PRESS

Montgomery College has obtained a college-sponsored resource that enables Faculty and Staff to upload videos for publishing to Blackboard, blogs, websites, and other areas to present or share video content. Called YuJa, this resource allows the publishing of media without the need to use a personal YouTube account. YuJa allows you to upload videos that are commercial-free. In addition, this resource helps with the accessibility of video content by generating auto-captions that are easy to modify for accuracy.

ELITE will offer a two-part training series for YuJa during the Spring Semester, beginning in January 2023.

The first part of the training, titled YuJa Video Basics: A College-Sponsored Resource to Upload Videos for Your Students, is the basic level of YuJa Training, where faculty and staff will learn the basics of the software, including logging onto YuJa, uploading, and organizing video, linking and embedding video in a Blackboard course, importing YouTube Video into YuJa, creating quiz questions and sharing media. This training will be offered during January, February, and March and is a prerequisite to the advanced training in the software, which will be offered during April and May.

If you are interested in the first part of the training, titled YuJa Video Basics: A College-Sponsored Resource to Upload Videos for Your Students, please use the link below to sign up for one of the sessions, which will be offered via Zoom.

Many faculty and staff will find their initial training will satisfy most of their needs when using YuJa. However, more advanced compliance YuJa features will be offered during the advanced training titled YuJa Video Advanced: Adding Captions, Editing Video, and Viewing Analytics during April and May. This advanced training will cover editing YuJa Captions, editing videos using YuJa's built-in video editor, and YuJa video analytics. Please use the link below to sign up for one of the advanced sessions, which will be offered via Zoom.
