

FACULTY GRANTS IN FRANCE

Château de la Bretesche

Candidates from the faculties of colleges and universities in Southern California may apply for the following grants to be used in France during summer of 2025 and academic year 2025–26:

Semester (or Quarter) Scholar-in-Residency Grants in France

The Foundation offers grants combining (a) a stipend of $30,000 for research in France for a semester (or quarter) during academic year 2025–26, plus (b) accommodations in the Château (picture above) — with all furnishings provided and utilities paid — as a home base for the research and/or writing up the research findings. Out of academic and practical considerations, candidates should be on sabbatical leave. The Foundation expects a scholarly publication to derive from the grant.

Grants to Host an International Colloquium in France

The Foundation offers grants of $35,000 to academicians to organize and direct 3-day international colloquia in their academic fields at the Château de la Bretesche in the summer months of 2025. The Foundation funds several every summer. They should be small in size, with participants equally divided between Americans and Europeans. The Foundation expects grantees to publish the proceedings.

Applications

Online Applications Only

Candidates may be from any discipline. Grants have been made, for example, in French, English, art, music, theater, philosophy, psychology, history, economics, medicine, dentistry and so on.

Candidates for Scholar-in-Residency grants for academic year 2025-26 shall submit an online application to <https://www.grantinterface.com/Home/Logon?urlkey=aeb> which includes: (1) résumé, (2) research proposal, (3) budget, and (4) department/administration endorsement no later than October 15, 2024. Candidates must demonstrate that a Scholarship-in-Residency in France is essential to their proposed project and academic career. Please indicate other available funding if not on sabbatical leave.

Applicants for Colloquium grants for the summer of 2025 shall submit an online application to <https://www.grantinterface.com/Home/Logon?urlkey=aeb> which includes: (1) proposed colloquium topic, (2) list of proposed participants, and (3) draft budget—all no later than October 15, 2024. Candidates must demonstrate that a Colloquium in France is vital academically and that the interface with European peers is essential. Please call (below) for details before you apply.

Albert and Elaine Borchard Foundation, Inc.

Tel. (818) 730-0353

www.borchardcenter.org