A well-rounded total rewards strategy is to offer comprehensive benefits and resources that address the mental and financial stressors experienced by today's workforce. By offering a group legal plan, like Legal Resources, you remove barriers to high-quality legal representation and provide employees peace of mind when a personal legal situation arises. Simply put, employees use legal.

As a result, Legal Resources help reduce stress from personal legal issues and enable employees to be more focused on work.

Our members say it best:

“My husband wanted to adopt my daughter but the cost was extremely high. Legal Resources was able to handle the adoption without us having to take out a personal loan to pay for it. When we got the finalized papers, my husband actually cried because he finally had rights to his little girl.” -Christine P.

“I contacted Legal Resources for help with cyber bullying / online impersonation. They sent a threatening letter which scared the perpetrator into stopping. It was some letter!” -Stuart G.

“We had our Legal Resource attorney draw up our will, financial power of attorney and advanced directives. My husband was diagnosed with terminal brain cancer shortly after. I am so thankful that this had been done. He passed away and I again contacted my attorney for advice moving forward. Peace of mind is priceless at times like this.” -Mary B.

“In both cases of divorce and traffic it was extremely helpful and saved over 10,000 dollars” -Albert R.

“I was able to use Legal Resources to finalize the sale of my rental property as well as my refinance of my primary residence. Extremely helpful!” -Corey M.

“The legal resource plan has helped me and a family member, my situation was concerning a debt that my lawyer helped get reduced by more than 50%” -Dennis B.

“I have found the resource very valuable. I have used it for buying and selling a home. I have also used it for a prenup and later in an uncontested divorce. I have also used it for my will and advanced directives. I have worked with several different attorneys and firms for the various services and all were great to work with.” -Linda M.
