

Adam Kissel

Visiting Fellow on Higher Education Reform
The Heritage Foundation

Adam Kissel, visiting fellow on higher education reform at The Heritage Foundation, was deputy assistant secretary for higher education programs at the U.S. Department of Education, vice president of the Foundation for Individual Rights and Expression, senior program officer at the Charles Koch Foundation, and director of civic and higher education programs at The Philanthropy Roundtable.

He lives and works in West Virginia and is a senior fellow at the Cardinal Institute for West Virginia Policy.